HART-AVERY.

At Athens, Ga., on January 25, the marriage of Miss Ora Hart and Mr. John Campbell Avery, Jr., of Pensacola, Fla., was solemnized in the presence of a large and brilliant assemblage of the friends of the bride and groom.

Mr. Avery, the groom, is an alumnus of the university and has endeavored himself to many Athenians by his sterling qualities. He is the son of Mr. J. C. Avery, of Pensacola, Fla.

The bride is generally conceded to be one of the most popular young ladies who has ever graced Athens society.

The church, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion by her loving friends, gave evidence of the esteem in which she is held.

The altar was a bower of green smilax and the wren candles in silver candelabra shining here and there through garlands of green made a chaste and beautiful picture.

At the appointed hour the strains of the wedding march announced the arrival of the bridal party. As the organ pealed forth the first bridesmaid, Miss Dorothy Freeman, of Toledo, O., and first cousin of the bride, came slowly down the aisle.

Her becoming dress was white crepe de chine, and she carried an armful of white carnations.

Then came the other maids in couples. They were Misses Edna Avery, of Pensacola, Fla.; Mary Hill, Mattie Wilson DuBose, Mary Gerline, Annie B. Phinley, Nancy Benedict, Rosina White, of Athens, and Miss Anna Lewis, of Greenesboro.

All these either wore white crepe de chine or white mull dresses, which were daintily made with high necks and elbow sleeves, and round skirts. The maids carried white carnations.

The maid of honor, Miss Jamie Miller, of Union Point, preceded the bride and wore pink mull. Her flowers were pink carnations.

Then came the lovely bride leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. J. F. Hart.

Her long tulle veil was held in place with the same spray of orange blossoms that graced her mother's wedding veil. Her dress, an exquisite creation of white Duchesse satin made en train, was hand embroidered in marguerites and seed pearls.

The front panels of the dress were embroidered in the marguerites and pearls and the bodice was also adorned with the same flowers and seed pearls. An exquisite bertha of rose point lace (the gift of the bride's mother) also adorned the bodice. The only jewel of the bride was a pearl and diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. Her bouquet was of bride roses.

She was met at the altar by the groom, attended by his best man, Mr. Albert Avery, of Florida.

Rev. Troy Beatty performed the beautiful and impressive marriage service of the Episcopal church. The soft strains of the organ, which were heard during the entire ceremony, lent additional beauty to the service.

After the ceremony the bridal party were driven to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hart, where a beautiful reception was tendered the bride and groom and many of their friends by the parents of the bride.

The old "Nicholson Place," a typical ante-bellum home, presented a brilliant appearance with its many windows of flooded light.

A large awning was stretched from the piazza over the broad carriage drive and the steps were covered with canvas.

Inside the house was a scene of beauty. The entire first floor, which was used as a reception hall, was gracefully decorated with southern smilax, ferns and palms.

In the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Hart, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Freeman, of Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. John C. Avery, Sr., of Pensacola, Fla.; Mrs. Emma Hart Thomas, of Union Point; Mrs. J. Hart Sibley, Mrs. Harold Lamb, Mrs. Sam Sibley, Mrs. William Hart, of Union Point; Mrs. Dr. Will Tate, of Tate, Ga.; and Mrs. John C. Hart.

Mrs. J. F. Hart, mother of the bride, wore her own wedding gown at her only daughter's wedding.

Mrs. George L. Freeman's gown was of beautiful white crepe de chine and lace.

Mrs. LeRoy Hart, white lisse over taffeta silk.

Mrs. Emma Hart Thomas wore black brocade.

Mrs. J. Hart Sibley, black lace over white satin, with diamonds.

Mrs. Harold Lamb, pink brocade, with a magnificent set of rare pearls.

Mrs. Sam Sibley, pink crepe de chine and point lace.

Mrs. William Hart, black Olga crepe.

Mrs. John C. Hart, canary satin, with collar of pearls.

Miss Stella Tate, blue brocade satin.

Mrs. William Tate, white Olga crepe.

Mrs. John C. Avery, of Florida, wore black lace.

At the close of the evening the bride and groom bade the assembled guests goodbye and were escorted to the private car tendered them by Attorney General Hart for their wedding journey.—Atlanta News.

RIGHT ROYAL RECEPTION ABOARD THE GERMAN SHIP.

The reception aboard the German cruiser Bremen Friday night was as interesting as it was novel and delightful, and was greatly enjoyed by the members of the Concordia Club, who were invited to participate in the celebration of Emperor William's birthday.

The dramatic and musical program which preceded the reception was arranged and carried out by the men without the assistance of the officers to whom it proved as enjoyable a surprise as it was to the guests.

The stage decorations of United States and German flags, in which the "stars and stripes" were very much in evidence, were a graceful compliment that was duly appreciated as were the numerous voluntary and cordial evidences of good will.

After the band finished playing "The Star Spangled Banner," Captain Koch, commander of the cruiser, rose to his feet on his chair and "hurrahed" three times for the United States and the German citizens of Pensacola, to which the response was unanimous and hearty.

Another graceful feature of the program was the singing by a young and good looking sailor of a song about the Pensacola girls and their pretty black eyes and blue, which was appreciated by all, especially by the girls among his hearers. After the formalities were concluded, Captain Koch royally entertained a few personal guests in his cabin while the other officers entertained a great many in the ward room.

On Tuesday evening the officers and men of the Bremen are to be the guests of the Concordia Club and the occasion promises to be also a delightful affair.

ADRIFF IN THE MISTS.

"He jests at scars who never felt a wound," and only those who have suffered can enter into the depth of torturing sorrow and humiliation; only an equally supersensitive sense of honor and tenderly sensitive desire to do the right thing all the time, to be a Christian in all the affairs of life, to leave an unblemished name as a heritage to his children and to all he loved; and these only when, broken in health and spirit, overwhelmed by a consciousness of irreparable and increasing physical weakness, can pierce even the outer density of the awful mental and spiritual fog into which the troubled mind and ill health of Mr. Gray had plunged him.

A fog that blinded him to the real if too silent friendliness of his old friends and business associates.

Have you ever noticed how, on a foggy evening, the shadows are distorted and magnified to undue proportions? How, as you grope along in semi-blindness toward a street lamp the smallest intervening object looms dark and portentous before you? If you were fresh, strong and robust, you probably have not observed them. But, if you were weary and dispirited, overworked mentally and physically, how they depressed you and how cold and dreary they made the world seem. And if you were also physically weak, those shadows have become substance before which your courage, your reason, your normal judgment have fled and you longed to follow them—anywhere out of the inhospitable, cheerless and deepening mists about you.

At such a time who can measure the God-given strength and courage conferred by the hearty hand grasp of an old friend and the cordial tones of a friendly voice?

A LOVELY EUCHRE.

Mrs. W. K. Hyer, Jr., entertained last evening with a very lovely card party. There were eight tables of six hand euchre and the prizes were very pretty.

The first, a brass teapot and server, went to Miss Sallie Wright and the second, a Japanese cracker jar to Mrs. Fernald, while Mrs. William J. Forbes won the consolation, a large cake beautifully ornamented.

Very delicious ices and cakes were served by Miss Ada Hilton Green and Miss Emily Jones.

Miss Mary Frances Lamar and Miss Belle Hyer "punched."

AT FORT BARRANCAS.

The bachelor officers of the post at Fort Barrancas, Captain Hase, Lieutenant Watson, Lieutenant Bliscoe and Lieutenant Crawford, entertained the Army and Navy Card Club on Friday evening. The hall, reception room and dining room of their quarters were beautifully decorated with flags and bunting and the bamboo vine. Chaplain Perry won the first prize for gentlemen and Mrs. Stanford, of the Navy Yard, the first for ladies.

DANCE AT THE NAVY YARD FOR VISITING GERMAN OFFICERS.

The officers of the navy yard gave a dance last night complimentary to the officers of the German cruiser Bremen now visiting this port, that was an enjoyable affair.

Mrs. Stephens, wife of the commandant, Mrs. DuBose, Mrs. Harris, wife of Surgeon Harris, Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Davis, mother of Captain Davis were the gracious hostesses in line and not only the special guests of honor but all others present spent a delightful evening.

Mrs. Scarritt Moreno is arranging a musicale for the near future which promises some novel attractions that will prove most enjoyable.

Mrs. P. B. Maddox, of Tuskegee, Ala., is expected to arrive tomorrow on a visit to her sister, Mrs. W. W. Richards, and family. The many friends of Mrs. Maddox who have not seen her since the Favourite-Richards wedding two years ago, will be very pleased to welcome her return.

Col. H. W. Hubbell, in command of the post and district, with his adjutant, Lieutenant Coward, went to Mobile on Thursday to inspect Fort Morgan.

A national salute, of twenty-one guns, was fired at twelve o'clock on Friday in honor of the birthday of Emperor William of Germany. The salute was in recognition of the German cruiser now in our harbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Filligim are happy over the arrival Tuesday night at their home on North DeVillier, of a fine girl baby.

Miss Eva Gonzalez is able to be out after a siege of LaGrippe.

Mrs. Emily Kuester, who has been ill of La Grippe, is now able to be about the house.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kihl and three children of Decatur, Ala., who formerly resided in this city, are visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Butler.

Miss Fannie Bonifay is in Milton, where she went Tuesday.

Mr. Henry Horstler left Saturday noon on an official visit to Century as grand prelate of the Knights of Pythias.

Mr. John Richards and sister Miss Nell Richards, leave this morning to spend Sunday with friends in Mobile.

Miss Elizabeth Crowell is having a perfectly delightful time in Canada's anglo-French climate where the elusive silver ball shrinks to nothing and Hudson Bay saibles are de rigueur nine months in the year.

Miss Walker, of Alabama, arrived Wednesday on an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Thomas V. Hannah, on East Gregory.

The friends and admirers of Rev. Henry T. Johnson, pastor of the Palatka M. E. church, and his interesting family, regretted exceedingly to have them go away, but sincerely trust they may be very happy and prosperous in

The Journal's Daily Fashion Feature.

Shown here is one of the latest modes of a cloth redingote suit. The material used is dark broadcloth, trimmed with heavy black braid and black silk buttons. The skirt has pleats stitched flat to the knees and flares full toward the bottom.

Eufaula, their new home in their beloved Alabama. They are delightful people and the young ladies will be especially missed by the young people.

Mrs. Cheatham A. Dannie, of Memphis, Tenn., one of Mrs. John G. Heard's charming guests, left Saturday noon for home, to meet Mr. Dannie, who has been away on business.

Mrs. Dannie, who is a delightful person, has been away on business for three weeks to complete her delightful visit. Happily Mrs. Miller remains with Mrs. Heard.

Rev. B. C. Glenn, the new pastor of Palatka M. E. church and family arrived Thursday evening from Eufaula. They were met at the station and escorted to the parsonage where they were welcomed by a committee of ladies who had the house and a good, hot supper ready for them.

The Excelsior Flinch will meet with Mrs. F. E. Brawner Wednesday afternoon.

The Ladder of Life.

All the events of a life are necessary to a higher development. The common task is a round by which we climb to glorious achievement. The ladder which leads us to perfection is made up of small events and small victories. In the economy of life nothing is useless and nothing is wasted. Everything in its place is the best thing for that place. Life is a law, not an accident.

IN 10 DAYS, USE

SATINOLA

THE UNEQUALLED BEAUTIFIER.

THE FIRST MEERSCHAUM.

A shoemaker, Kaval Kowates, who in 1823 lived at Pesth, the capital of Hungary, smoked the first meerschaum pipe. Besides being a shoemaker, however, he was one of nature's handcraftsmen, being gifted with an intuitive genius for carving in wood and other material. This brought him into contact with Count Andrassy, with whom he became a great favorite. The count on his return from a mission to Turkey brought with him a piece of whitish clay, which had been presented to him as a curiosity on account of its extraordinary light, specific gravity. It struck the shoemaker that, being porous, it must be well adapted for pipes, as it would absorb the nicotine. The experiment was tried, and Kaval cut a pipe for the count and one for himself. This first meerschaum pipe made and smoked by Kaval Kowates has been preserved in the museum at Pesth.

Holland Cheese.

Holland is the land of flatness, windmills, dikes, canals and cheese. Of the latter they produce 40,000 tons and more in a year and consume only a fourth part. Alkmaar, one of the most noted and historical towns in the country, is the great cheese market, and in its streets over 12,000,000 pounds are sold annually.
